The Walks

Walk 2 - Green route (1.3 miles/25 minutes)

- From the Coore Arms, head south on Station Road and take the footpath on the left into a field. Walk diagonally (NE) across the field.
- Turn right when you get to the stile (do not go over the stile). Walk on past a second stile on your left and continue to follow the path as it goes around the edge of the field.
- On the south side of the field there is a third stile where you turn left to go over the stile. Walk across the field towards a line of pylons.
- Turn right and follow the line of pylons back towards Station Road.
- Turn right and head north on Station Road back to the Coore Arms.

Walk 3 - Red route (1.4 miles/27 minutes)

- Head south from the Coore Arms along Station Road. Take the first left into a field. Walk diagonally (NE) across the field and go over the stile to a pathway leading to Common Lane.
- Go through the kissing gate at the end of the path and cross over Common Lane onto the village green. You may like to visit St Radegund's Church and read the village history information board in front of the church wall.
- Head back along the tree lined trackway from the church. When you get to Common Lane, turn immediately right into The Parklands.
- After the bend, take the footpath on the right between houses No.3 and 4 and go over the stile into the field. There are often cattle here so be particularly careful if you have a dog. In this field you will have a lovely view of the Cedars of Lebanon (planted over 300 years ago).
- Walk diagonally (West-Northwest) across the field and go over the stile at the far side of the field onto Fleetham Lane.
- Turn left to walk south on Fleetham Lane and follow the road back into the village. The road bends right at Pittfields Corner and takes you back to the Coore Arms in Station Road.
